Many Things Are Meant

By many dealers who claim to handle groceries. When they advertise Good Groceries, no mention is made of PRICE. When price is mentioned QUALITY IS OVERLOOKED. Again, sometimes they dwell on the virtues of a LAPGE STOCK. In this case no claim is made to carrying FRESH GOODS.

We Preach the Three Main Virtues of Groceries—

Quality Quantity Price
They are mentioned in their regular order and the happy combination is causing hosts of pleasure patrons at our store.

The History of Etiquette.

Etiquette is a form of fashion more important than style in dress, for the reason that the varying codes of manners have influenced morals, something being said to have done. When etiquette demanded that a gentleman accept a challenge or acknowledge himself a coward in the minds of his fellow citizens, it enforced sharply upon ethics. Now that it has gone out of fashion to kill gentlemen and an all difficulty in keeping the sixth commandment. The less formal etiquette becomes the less wanton taking of life there is among those who consider good breeding of consequence.

As the civilized race now stands either man or woman can be refined, regardless of shape of hat or the wears. This was true in any century, but 200 years ago and back of that period a gentleman and lady could, according to approved etiquette, gobble food with their hands from a common dish set in the center of the dining table and filled with the entire fashionable bill of fare prepared for the occasion. Gratefully we now acknowledge such proceedings to be "bad form" and in so doing pronounce ourselves two centuries removed from the table manners of swine and one point away from that brute, no matter how similar to him our turn of mind may remain in some other respects. National Magazine.

Salt Water Fish.
The number of species of fishes living habitually in the salt waters of the world can only be approximately estimated, probably about 10,000. These are classified as "shore fishes" live, as a rule, close to the surface and near the land and are well known to the salt water angler in his outings as the weakly, striped bass, kingfish, etc. Of the shore fishes there are about 4,000 species. The "pelagic fishes" or those which inhabit the upper waters of the seas, are relatively few in number. The "deep sea fishes," which live in depths varying from 200 to 2,500 fathoms, cannot be even approximately estimated, as a new species are being constantly discovered. Field and Stream.

Then and Now.
In these days of cheap literature when the masterpieces of English literature can be had for 6d., it is interesting to note that just 1,000 years ago the contents of Anglo-Saxon, 200 sheep, one lot of millet, one load of rye and one load of wheat for a volume of sermons written by a Christian monk. London.

Some Curious Churches.
Congregations Which Meet in Inns, Windmills and Bells.

A public house is one of the last places one would expect to be used as a place of worship. The inhabitants of Twyford, a village near Winchester, would not consider this at all a novelty, because for several years past the Phoenix Inn has been used Sunday for religious purposes. The room in which the religious services are held will comfortably hold about 200 people and opens at the back on to a pretty tea garden. The most remarkable feature of the service is that they are often conducted while the public house is open for business purposes, and the customers can join in the singing if they are so disposed.

There are two or three instances of public houses which have been converted into churches, and there are also two or three churches which are now places of worship. The Fen district possesses a cannibal church. There are a large number of people who live some distance away from any church, and the cannibal church travels from place to place for the benefit of such folk. The boat will seat a congregation of about 100.

The old chapel of ease at Tunbridge Wells has a unique situation. It stands in two counties and three parishes. When the clergyman leaves the rectory, he comes out of the parish of Frant of Sussex. If he is going to officiate at the altar, he walks into the parish of Tunbridge, in Kent. If, on the other hand, he is going to preach the sermon, he walks from the parish of Frant to the parish of Speldhurst on his way to the pulpit.

The chapel at Milton Bryant is situated in the village pond. The reason for the selection of this strange site was, because no landowner would grant any other position. The "windmill" church near Reigate is familiar to London cyclists. Not so familiar is the underground church at Brighton. Owing to some "ancient lights" difficulty, the authorities could not "build up" and as the site was a good one they decided to "build down."

FRIDAY, JUNE 24, 1901.

PRIVILEGES FOR THE FEW.

Privileges are many but not for many. The select few are the recipients of favors present and who in the future continue to be till a different policy is made the policy of the government.

A majority of people from some cause not altogether clear to the gutless mind of the writer, appear to be in favor of privileges for the few, while making government as directed autocratic. Its privileges are bestowed with reference to their continuance, the policy of the party in power is to perpetuate a system of favors absolute in their nature to those who favor the party in return by aiding it to retain power.

The anti-privilege class of citizens are required to do work to sustain a system they do not approve, while they have to turn into the pockets of the privileged class a large portion of their earnings to aid them to support the party in authority whose purpose and business it is to extend privileges to its faithful adherents and supporters.

As political policies are a majority of the people are satisfied to continue voluntary slaves to the privileged autocracy to whose success financial they contribute. Many people say "We do not understand why it is that a majority of the people in the United States support a system which makes them contribute to the rebuilding of immense fortunes for a few. When the query is understood it will also be understood that the majority who engage in supporting a system to build fortunes for a few are no better informed regarding their action when building fortunes for others than those who admit their ignorance about the motives of people who sustain such a policy.

It is plain upon the principle of cause and effect that a like system will continue till there is a controlling cause in opposition to large fortunes for the favored few. That controlling cause will not make an appearance while the people have sufficient of the material things of life. They will be more contented when they have fish not with out liberty than they will be with liberty without fish pots.

We speak advisedly when it is said that such has been and continues to be the history of the human family from the time history was first written. The Hebrew was better contented when he was a slave engaged in building pyramids in Egypt with plenty to eat than he was when he had passed the Red Sea and was in the full enjoyment of liberty without fish pots.

The dinner bucket is no new thing as a persuader of the race, which the masters of a majority of the people and through a majority masters of all the people, understand too well to require instruction.

It is upon the theory of a full dinner pail that McKinley is credited with sending rain, good crops and good times as conditions have been for the last four years of plenty.

He has been inspired in the popular mind during the last four years of plenty with most of the powers of the mythological gods of antiquity, not excepting Neptune, ruler of the seas. Any system of government is good enough when the comforts of life are plentiful. The present is the time which influences men.

They have no time to speculate upon what may be in the future for them as a consequence of things operating in the present, so long as the present provides for the wants of the body.

The necessities of life are largely looked upon as favors coming from the beautiful hand of the all-powerful McKinley to disburse good things and the interested or privileged few make it a business to impress upon the popular mind that he is the man from whose hand all blessings flow. Favors are displayed as coming from the chief man who is doing work for the few to enslave present and future generations to the will of the few, who will ever find work for the people building fortunes like Egyptian pyramids. The time may not be distant when favors will cease to flow from the wonderful hand of the man in the White House.

Times may change, which will be the stone to break in pieces the idol whose worship is in a manner commanded by the few, when the blessings of a triune God are with held the hand of the idol will cease to dispense favors. Then will come a demand for rights by the people which the idol and his ministers, the few will not be in a position to deny as they will be secured through the ballot box by a disappointed and deceived people.

The few will be given proper relation to the many by abolishing the relation of master and slave by placing where they belong which will be in a proper working position for the good of their country. Past favors will not satisfy a demand for rights which will place the seal of silence upon the lips of the few when their doings will be critically examined by the many, who in the end will administer upon their estates for the public good in the future.

Half Million Fry Planted.

Yesterday was a red letter day for the fishing industry on the Truckee River. Half million young rainbows and other varieties of trout were distributed in the pools along the river from the Stataline to Lewiston.

Fish Warden Merklinger, assisted by Jesses Paeet and Foulks of Verdi planted the fry where they will be best able to shuffle for themselves after being educated in the art of living at the California Fish Commission's hatchery. Among the Renos who went up to clip bows the job were E. Campbell, D. handler and R. B. Hawcroft. His morning there will arrive a big shipment of McClouds for planting in this vicinity. Another lot will arrive Saturday morning. Mr. Merklinger invites any one interested in the preservation of the fishing industry to watch the distribution. It is an interesting sight.

A BUILDING BOOM IS ON.

Wendland City Renos prosperous mining suburb, is enjoying a building boom. A year ago there was not a building or tent on the site of the mine and now there are twelve frame structures and tents galore. A large store building is just completed and an assay office and machine shop are being built. These buildings are nearly all at the Reno Star end of the camp, the Bell people contenting themselves with tents with the exception of an ore house and a shaft house. Mr. Bell has arranged to build a structure over his hoisting works and will also construct several substantial buildings, consisting of a boarding house, new ore house and several residences as well as an assay office.

NOT THE SAME MAN.
The man who came down from Jarneville and circulated the report that the ranchers were selling thoroughbred horses, cattle and stacks of hay in order to pile up money to give Douglas county the Queen of the Carnival, must be the same man who said that Reno would go broke before he loved Carson to name the Queen. Appeal.

As hardly think it is the same man or if the young lady whom the citizens of Reno wished to vote for had given her consent to have been a candidate, Reno would have had the Carnival Queen.

An Excellent Combination.

The pleasant method and beneficial effects of the well known remedy, SYRUP OF FIGS, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. illustrate the value of obtaining the liquid laxative principles of plants known to be medicinally laxative and presenting them in the form most refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system. It is the one perfect strengthening laxative, cleansing the system effectually, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers gently yet promptly and enabling one to overcome habitual constipation permanently. Its perfect freedom from every objectionable quality and substance, and its acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, without weakening or irritating them, make it the ideal laxative.

In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal qualities of the remedy are obtained from senna and other aromatic plants, by a method known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only. In order to get its beneficial effects and to avoid imitations, please remember the full name of the Company printed on the front of every package.

SOCIAL AT WEDEKIND.

A miners' ball was given at Wedekind City last night. The occasion was the opening of the first store in the camp by Chas Sparks. The building is a commodious one and substantially built. It is neatly finished and is tastefully decorated for the occasion. Mrs. Sparks was hostess of the occasion. Nearly all the miners in the camp attended and a number of people drove out from town. Excellent music was provided and refreshments were served at midnight.

THE BELL MINING COMPANY ENTERTAINS.

A Party of Renoites Visit One of the Newly Discovered Mines in This Vicinity.

Chas. B. Bell and Thomas Dougherty, two of the principal owners of the Bell mine at Wedekind formerly known as Bryan City, gave a picnic party yesterday at the mine.

Among those who were present were Mr. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Dougherty, Chester Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. M. Am. Rosenthal, Mrs. Gotwaldt, Mrs. Ella C. Wheeler, Miss Currier, the Misses Conroy, Miss Peterson, Superintendent Caine, J. M. Libby, L. P. LaMotte and W. M. Gotwaldt.

Carriages were provided for the party and after a pleasant drive to the mine, refreshments were served under a canopy, especially erected for the party. The luncheon was more in the nature of a banquet. The hosts spared neither trouble nor expense to make the event an elaborate and delightful one.

The afternoon was spent inspecting the mine. The new eighty-horsepower steam hoist, the first ever erected in Washoe county, was in perfect working order and the party were let down into the workings. By a coincidence, the ledge was cut just as the party were let down and before their departure a quantity of pay rock had been hoisted to the surface.

A number of the more venturesome ones descended into the old workings, where half a carload of bonanza ore is being extracted daily. These workings are 140 feet deep and the ore shows plentifully in the face of all the workings. It is no exaggeration to say that half a million dollars worth of rich rock is blocked out.

Work from this shaft will shortly be abandoned as the ore can be more cheaply hoisted from the new shaft. There is very little water in the mine. It is confined to a three foot sump hole and does not interfere with the miners.

The ore is still a silver chloride carrying considerable gold. In the lowest level some of the sulphides are being encountered. They assay from $500 to $1,000 a ton. The weight of this rock is a guarantee of its great wealth. The ore appears to lie in bunches of varying size in a formation of unknown width. All the material outside of these bunches would doubtless pay to work on the ground, but it is not being extracted at present. Only the richer ore is taken out.

R. J. Read was in charge of the hoist, which works to perfection, raising a large bucket of ore every few seconds. Mr. Read shows himself to be a very careful engineer, especially when passengers are on board, and avoids all chances for accidents, none of which by the way, have ever occurred in the camp. Very little timbering is being done as the formation holds up well. However, it appears to have a squeezing tendency, being largely porphyritic clay.

There are 21 names on the payroll. Chas. B. Bell is manager and superintendent. Ed. Crane is foreman. J. M. Libby is assayer. The shift bosses are Ben Duncan and George Ganz. Roll Read and Chas. Williamson are engineers.

Excellent boarding is furnished at reasonable rates. Wages run from $2.50 to $3.50 per shift.

About three cars of ore are shipped weekly. They average about $1000 a car above transportation and working charges. Fourteen cars have been shipped the past week. Selby's returns on the last four cars were shown the writer. The net proceeds were respectively $1326.12, $880.17, $729.35 and $1,073.62.

Preparations are being made to sink a double compartment shaft near the boarding house. It will tap the ore body at a depth of about 600 feet and will afford considerable backing for stoping.

Whether the property is being worked in an up-to-date manner and bids fair, unless pending litigation is decided adversely to the Bell Mining Company, to become one of the biggest dividend payers in the State before the summer is over. As it is, the mine has already more than paid for all the expense incurred in placing it in working order and paying for the property.

IN RENO STAR MINE.

A Journal Reporter is Shown Through the Wedekind Workings.

Yesterday a Journal reporter was escorted by Superintendent C. L. Crane through the workings of the Reno Star mine. Verily a guide and escort were needed, for without assistance the reporter would have had a sorry time getting his bearings. The Reno Star has hitherto been worked for its ore rather than to block out the bodies.

There are galleries, drifts, winzes, upraises, stopes and chambers galore. The turnings and twistings of the workings are enough to cause a visitor to reach up to his forehead to confirm his suspicion that his bump of locality has become a depression.

Notwithstanding that the mine was worked by Mr. Wedekind to extract as much ore as possible within the briefest time and at the least expense, he did not ruin the mine as some people might suppose. In fact it is a mine that could not be ruined in a short time. Everywhere the faces and sides of the workings show the gold and silver ore in inexhaustible quantities. Lead, iron, silver and yellow and green chlorides are one in the face where the turns and the black sulphides sparkle in the candle light. In fact the very quartz—for the mine is not unnumbered—are literal monuments of wealth.

Little did George Wedekind dream when he struck the lead that he was opening a bonanza that would produce millions after his body was ashes. Now the method of mining has changed. A single man is knocking down more dividend paying rock than six men can sort and sack and transport to the ore house. The structure is crowded to the ceiling with shipping ore that will run, Oh, pretty nearly any time you may like to name.

A big shaft is being sunk south of the ore house. Here is where the hoist will be erected as soon as the ore body is struck. Mr. Sparks and Mr. Crane are not saying much but they are getting work that counts out of their twenty odd employees. It will not be many weeks before there will be another whistle sounding at Wedekind City.

THE BEST THAT IS.

Yesterday the Monarch Saloon Company received another carload of the celebrated Aschmuser-Busch beer. This is the only beer that is brought to Reno in the good and is the best and purest that can be made. Messrs. Bryson & Conn are handling immense quantities of this beverage this hot weather.

TEACHERS ELECTED.

The Present Corps Was All Retained by the Board of Trustees.

A meeting of the trustees of Reno school district No. 19 was held yesterday. The teachers were elected for the ensuing year. As the following list will show no changes have taken place in the personnel of the force.

Principal and Superintendent, John Edwards Bray (previously re-elected). Teachers: Mrs. M. S. Doten, Misses A. H. Schadler, M. C. Meeserve, F. J. Northrup, H. E. Joy, E. L. Loder, F. E. Frey, M. M. Mayberry, J. N. Blum, Belle Rulison, L. J. Douglass, J. V. Jamieson, L. T. Mrs. J. K. Logan, Mrs. L. C. Booth and Mr. T. A. Brandon. Musical Director, Mrs. A. L. Layton; Head Kindergarten, Miss A. Nichols; Assistant Kindergarten, Miss Jamieson.

The positions of the teachers were not assigned, as that is the work of the Principal when the pupils are re-classified for the ensuing term.

It will be noticed that the entire present corps of teachers were re-elected. This is a deserved compliment to the teachers, who have worked ably and zealously during the past year.

The board are to be commended for their judgment in the premises. Good teachers should be retained in positions so long as they continue zealous and progressive in their work. With such teachers only can a creditable school system be built up and made better from year to year. Such a system Reno now has and will always want.

Principal Bray was authorized to prepare a course of study for the schools with a view to its early publication. After some routine business the board adjourned until next Wednesday morning when they will inspect the school buildings to what repairs are necessary.

FORMER RENOITE.

From the Daily Ledger of Tacoma, June 19, we clip the following: Federation Meeting of Women's Clubs, Washington.

"The closing number on the program was a veritable gem of literary merit and was delivered with such magnetic power and charm that, although the hour was late, it was closely attended to the last word. Mrs. C. A. Glen was the only woman to deliver her address without notes, is a member of the Cultus Club of Spokane and has won a high place in the ranks of Washington club women by her graceful, polished presentation of a fantasy which has for its inspiration the solid fact of German development in literature."

Mrs. Glen formerly Miss Kittle Grippe lived in Reno during her childhood and youth.

Mr. Buzzatti is doing considerable work on the building and will open a saloon and hotel on July 1st. With this addition Verdi will have four hotels and five saloons.

AT THE COUNTRY CLUB.

The guests registered at the Truckee River Country Club during the past week were: Mrs. J. N. Evans and family, Miss Beas Evans, Miss Maud Patterson, Miss Rowena Landren, C. T. Bender and family, Reno; H. H. Lockwood, Mr. Walker and son, W. G. Deal, Clarence Ashlin, Colonel Wm. Kellogg, A. Vashell, Guy Vashell, wife and son and A. E. Lovett, San Francisco. Mr. Lovett is the champion fly caster of the world.

TROUT DISTRIBUTING.

Game Warden Merklinger is here to witness the distribution of Nevada's share of the trout hatched by the California Fish Commission. The number to be liberated here will probably exceed 100,000.

GRADUATING EXERCISES.

A large crowd assembled at Lonkey's Hall last Friday evening to witness the graduating exercises of the class from the public school.

The graduates were: Georgia Burch, Edna Soucheau, Carrie Thompson, Lloyd Leakey and Samuel Bigelow. Their essays were interesting and well read. Prof. Robert Lewers of Reno spoke on Nevada's early history. Trustee J. E. Soucheau in a neat speech delivered the diplomas to the graduates. On behalf of the class Miss Edna Soucheau presented Prof. Leavitt with a handsome locket.

Mr. Leavitt has been untiring in his efforts on behalf of the Verdi school and his class showed conclusively that they were well fitted for advancement and the trustees have wisely shown their appreciation by retaining both him and Miss Delaney to succeed themselves.

The large forest fire which has been raging in the vicinity of Dox Valley since last Sunday is now under control.

SHORT ONES.

Mrs. L. M. Brown and daughter, Ruby, arrived from California Tuesday and will make this their future home.

A. W. Utting was a visitor Saturday last.

C. Lonkey and Thos. Pixley are in Sierra Valley on business.

Arthur J. Condon has been appointed assistant cashier of the Verdi Lumber Company at their general office.

THE RENO VAUDEVILLES

Reno has not witnessed a theatrical or musical entertainment in some time and the Vaudeville Company will be warmly welcomed this evening when they appear before the footlights.

Those who have witnessed the dress rehearsals say the program is one of the best amateur performances ever seen here, and indeed, some of the turns are fully up to professional.

It goes with a rush and there will be no long waits. Go and enjoy a good laugh and some excellent music.

A Journal reporter witnessed the full dress rehearsal last night. All the members of the case went through their parts with snap and ginger. It will be a way up production.

NOTICE TO SPEED COMMITTEE. There will be a meeting of the Speed Committee of the State Agricultural Society at the office of the Secretary in the Bank of Nevada building on Monday, July 18, at 2 o'clock p. m. All members of the committee are requested to be present. By order of the Chairman.
